

Mike Matson
Vice President, Storworks Power

Biography

Mike Matson is Vice President at Storworks Power, a Colorado-based energy storage company focused on using low-cost concrete as storage medium. Mike began his career in energy running an undergraduate laboratory focused on kerogen/bitumen research with Exxon Mobil as an Assistant Professor at the University of Houston-Downtown. Mike has experience with reservoir surveillance, the development of water and CO₂ floods, and drilling operations with Occidental Petroleum and Kinder Morgan. Mike co-authored the iconic, yellow-covered “Inorganic Chemistry for Dummies.”

Mike holds a Guinness World Record for skippering the first three-person boat to cross the Atlantic using only rowing oars, and as a new Coloradan has recently been pursuing summiting Colorado’s “14’ers” with his wife, two kids, and rescue Labrador named Rocky.

Mike has a Bachelor of Science in Chemistry from the US Naval Academy. He also holds a Master of Arts and PhD in Chemistry from Rice University, and he is a licensed engineer in both TX and CO.
